him all that had happened in Egypt and showed him all the things Joseph had sent with them. Jacob was happy to learn that Joseph was alive. He wanted to see Joseph before he died.

Have you ever had a friend who moved away and you did not see him or her for a long time? When you’re able to be together again, it’s a great feeling. This is how Jacob felt about seeing Joseph, but his feeling was even stronger because he had thought for a long time that his son Joseph was dead.

Jacob, who is also called Israel, packed up his family and their belongings, and started out for Egypt. God promised that He would be with Jacob’s family in Egypt and that He would bring them back to Canaan one day.

Jacob Moves To Egypt

Seventy men of Jacob’s family, plus their wives and families, moved to Egypt. When Joseph saw his father, he hugged him for a long time and cried, but these were happy tears. Joseph and Jacob deeply loved each other, and they had been separated for many years. Joseph introduced his family to Pharaoh. Pharaoh said they could live in a part of Egypt called Goshen. Pharaoh said Jacob’s sons could keep their flocks in Goshen, and some of the brothers could take care of Pharaoh’s animals. Jacob was now 130 years old. At long last, Jacob and Joseph were together again.

Genesis 46:28-34

Genesis 47:1-12

What kind of land did Pharaoh offer to Joseph's family?

rocky      good      swampy

Jacob's family lived well in the land of Goshen and increased in size. Jacob lived seventeen years in Egypt before he died. Jacob asked Joseph to make sure he was not buried in the land of Egypt. Jacob believed God would return their family to Canaan one day, and he wanted to be buried there. Joseph promised to bury his father in Canaan. This made Jacob happy, and he worshiped God.

Even during a severe famine, God provided a way for Jacob's family to have plenty of food and a good place to live. Think about it. If Joseph had not been sold into slavery in Egypt, none of this could have happened. God often works in wonderful ways that are hard for us to understand! We must trust and obey Him.

Genesis 47:13-17, 23-31

Jacob lived in Egypt for _____ years.

Where did Jacob want to be buried?

Think About It...

Joseph took care of his father when he grew old. Think of something you can do for an older member of your family — maybe a grandparent or great-grandparent. Write down what you can do.
